BUSINESS CONVENTION.

The Convention of "Business Men," from the several States, which assembled at Philadelphia on Tuesday, the 1st inst. adjourned on Thurday evening;—after a long debate, the Convention, on that day, adopted the following resolutions, which are the result of the deliberations of that body:—

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

The Mechanics, Manufacturers, Agriculturalists & business men of all classes, from different sections of the United States, represented by delegates in Convention at Philadelphia, the 1st day of August, 1837, having considered the peculiar embarrassments to which the country is now exposed, do adopt the following resolutions as expressive of their opinions on this important subject.

1st—Resolved, That on the prostration of business, the destruction of credit, and the derangement of the currency of the country, a crisis has arrived which demands the cordial and united co-operation of all intelligent and patriotic citizens of all classes, denominations and parties in devising and executing such measures as in the judgment of enlightened wisdom are calculated to relieve the country from existing evils.

2nd—Resolved, That it is the part of wisdom and patriotism in inquiring for the causes of existing evils, to avoid casting censure upon others, and with a single aim to seek an adequate remedy. To do this the truth must be presented to the minds of intelligent and upright men, and an independent judgment must perform its appropriate office.

3d—Resolved, That among the causes of the ruinous results in which the business, the enterprise, the industry, and we may add, the happiness of the country are involved, are the withdrawal of a large amount of money collected for the public use, from its ordinary business channels, and the consequent interruption of the usual facilities for the fulfilment of commercial engagements—the distribution of a portion of the public revenue among the States, as imposed by the act of Congress, at points remote from the places of its collection—the excessive issues of bank paper, and the consequent abuse of bank credit—the extensive and rash contracts in the purchase of lands, city lots, stocks and other property, in which men of limited resources, in their zeal "to make haste to be rich" have engaged—the neglect of a suitable attention to that most useful and honorable employment, the cultivation of the soil, and as a consequence, the importations of large quantities of bread stuffs—the great excess of importations above our exports, and in this way the contracting of large foreign debts, the payment of which requires the withdrawal of a correspondent amount of funds from the ordinary channels of business at home—the idleness, luxury and extravagance in which too many have indulged—the intense political excitement which has pervaded all parts of the country, and has subjected every public measure to the test of its probable effect upon party influence, and by which the monied institutions of the country, and the ordinary pursuits of business men have been involved in the violence of party conflicts.

4th—Resolved, That gold and silver coin, constitute the only constitutional standard for the exchangeable value of property; and the issuing, or continuing as a general currency, Bank paper, which is not redeemable at all times in the precious metals, is unjust and unequal in its effects upon the people, and subversive of the best interests of the community.

5th—Resolved, That a well regulated and well guarded system of bank credit, by which bills at all times redeemable in gold and silver, are made to supply the business wants of the community, constitutes one of the peculiar characteristics of a free people, and is essentially necessary in promoting their prosperity and happiness.

6th—Resolved, That the great object of civil government—the promotion of the happiness of the people cannot be obtained in the United States, without a well regulated system of protection to all the great business interests in which our citizens are engaged, and that as the system of credit upon import duties, has a tendeney to encourage excessive importations, and to produce ruinous fluctuations in other branches of business, the adoption of the system of requiring cash for duties, would prevent much of the embarrassment to which the country is exposed, and would be of essential importance to all the great interests of the United States.

7th—Resolved, That the importations of silks during the last year amount to more than twenty three millions of dollars, the promotion of its growth in this country by the bestowment of such liberal bonnties as would secure its cultivation, would be of the highest importance in diminishing the causes of our foreign debt and in promoting the agricultural interests of every State in the Union.

8th—Resolved, That the avails of the public lands, after making suitable appropriations for education and improvements in the States where they are situated ought to be applied to the promotion of objects of a public character in the several States, according to the same just ratio.

9th—Resolved, That the time has arrived when it is the imperious duty of the Congress of the United States to exercise their constitutional power of establishing a uniform system of Bankruptcy throughout the United States.

10th—Resolved, That the citizens of the United States are united in one common interest, and the various classes and professions are mutually dependent upon each other, and that any effort to excite one class against another to divide society into factions, would be subversive of the fundamental principles of society, and tend to destroy the happiness of all.

11th—Resolved, That in the conflicts of mere partizans, contending for the triumph of party success, and subjecting every public measure to the supervision of party discipline, we discover principles subversive of personal independence, and ruinous to the best interests of the country.

12th.—Resolved, That the substantial blessings which a bountiful Providence is now showering upon the fields of our agricultural brethren, warn us as it were in the silent and eloquent language of inspiration, to leave the delusive mazes of speculation with which all branches of trade have been mixed up, and return to the practice of industry and economy, and to the enjoyment of their solid rewards.

MADAME LA VALETTE.

Hundreds of the present generation have probably never heard of the heroic firmness which this distinguished woman displayed, in conjunction with three noble hearted British officers, in order to extricate her gallant husband from a bloody death, when the Allied Powers of Europe for the second time overran France, and overthrew forever the Napolean dynasty. Lavalette, who, like the chivalrous and undaunted Ney, had rendered himself peculiarly obnoxious to the restored Monarch by his zeal in the service of Napoleon, was sentenced to be shot, and was only preserved from the fate which befell the less fortunate Ney, by the heroism and affection of his devoted wife.—It will be seen, by the following extract from an interesting article in a recent number of the London New Monthly Magazine, descriptive of the Lunatic Hospitals in France, that the intellect of Madame Lavalette gradually sunk, notwithstanding the success of her plan, and that she is now confined in one of those Asylums, the victim of a helpless malady.—Lavelette himself, died some time ago, having been, after many years of exile from his country, pardoned, and permitted to return:

"In one of the private Maisons de Sante, on the other side of Paris, there now resides an illustrious patient, whese beauty madness has not faded, for her disease of mind is gentle and calm, and took its rise from the excess of affectionate concern, heightened by terror.—This is Madame Lavalette, who procured the celebrated escape of her husband from prison. Having engaged, by her pursuasions and entreaties, Sir Robert Wilson, Bruce, and Hutchinson to aid Lavalette's flight to a place of safety, she was permitted to enter his prison the evening before his execution, his hair was already cut off as a preparation for the guillotine; he fled in the disguise of his wife's dress, His heroic wife was bitterly reproached and threatened by the governor of the prison; and her nervous anxiety lest Lavalette should be retaken, of which she was assured there was no doubt, was so excessive, that she never after recovered the miseries of the night. After a time, her fine intellect gradually gave way, and she has resided some years in this Maison, anxiously attended. Lavalette is now dead; but her silence is never broken by any event; she walks often in the garden, and plucks the flowers, or sits for hours on the garden seats, but never speaks, and has not been heard to utter a word for some years. Her look is sad and lonely, and she seems no longer to feel sympathy with any being; a transition from devoted union, from passionate tenderness, to the chilliness and dreariness of the tomb.

Perhaps there is no more prolific source of the disregard of public order so much complained of at present, than the culpable laxity of discipline imposed by masters upon their apprentice. Parents foolishly either do not bind their children to their employers by regular indentures of apprenticeship, or if they do, they cause to be inserted such reservations of authority as render it impossible for the master to enforce a proper degree of controul.—This is mistaken kindness and ill-judging affection.

Late Foreign Intelligence.

NEW-YORK, JULY 31.

LATE FROM ENGLAND.

By the Packet ship Montreal, arrived yesterday, we have received London papers to the 1st of July. The intelligence which they furnish relating to the money market, and the state of trade with this country, is decidedly favorable. Confidence is gradually being restored with regard to the moneyed concerns of the United States, and the Bank of England had granted further facilities by small discounts, and an extension of time on certain bills shortly becoming due.

The London Observer of June 20, has the following paragraph :—

The intelligence received by the mercantile classes in the city from the United States the 2d inst. is of a favorable nature. The amount of specie received by the Mediator, arrived in the Thames, and the Columbus, which has reached London, is $200,000, of which about £13,000 are in sovereigns and gold French coin. The Sheffield, which left New-York previous to the 1st inst. had on freight 12 kegs of specie, the value of which is not known, the ship not having reached England. Arrangements were in progress to ship off in the next month not less than $4,000,000. The latest exports from the United States, since the banks suspended payment, is stated at $3,000,000.

From the London Morning Post.

We learn that a gentleman named Dixwell, who came passenger in one of the packets lately arrived from the United States, has to-day had an interview with the bank directors, as the representative of the leading merchants at Boston, the purpose of his visit to England being to assure them of the great anxiety of that community to square accounts with their creditors here, the moment that the American money market shall have become sufficiently settled to enable them to do so. The proceedings of the Boston merchants on this occasion do them much honor, and they may be at all events taken as an earnest of their good intentions. The communications made by Mr. Dixwell have accordingly had a favorable effect.

The dissolution of Parliament is fixed for the 20th of July, when new elections will be held.

Lord John Russell had issued an address to his constituents of Stroud, declaring his intention to presnt himself before them as a candidate for that borough.—In it his Lordship declares that the Queen has been pleased to continue the administration of public affairs in the hands of Lord Melbourne and his colleagues, and that they shall continue to urge on the measures brought forward by them during the late King's reign. The Duke of Wellington in the House of Lords on the night of the 29th made some important admissions on the subject of Irish affairs, and declared his readiness to cooperate with Lord Melbourne in effecting a settlement of the three great questions connected with that portion of the British empire, namely, the poor law system, the tythe question, and the corporation reform.

The subject of the succession to the throne was brought before Parliament on the night of the 23d and again on the 29th, by the Lord Chancellor. In consequence of the saving clause in the proclamation announcing Victoria's accession,—providing for the contingency of an heir by the Dowager Queen Adelaide widow of William IV.—the coronation of the young princess cannot take place til after the month of March.

Indications were greatly favorable to the opinion that the Queen will not withdraw her countenance from the whigs.

The funeral of the late King was to take place on the 8th July, according to an announcement in the London Gazette.

It is stated by a correspondent of the London Morning Herald at Constantinople that the American schooner of war Shark, had excited the displeasure of the government, by persisting in passing the Dardanelles without a firman, and in opposition to the remonstrances of the pacha, who had the command of the castle; and that she escaped being involved in a serious difficulty by the influence of the chief ship-builder, who is a Yankee and who enjoys the favour of the government.

It now appears that the accounts brought by the last arrivals of an important victory gained in the north of Spain by the Commander of the Queen's forces there, the Baron de Meer, over the army of Don Carlos, was, as we suspected, a mere fabrication, or at least was nothing more, than a skirmish with some Carlist partizan. Don Carlos has reached with his army without any serious opposition, the important town of Solona in the centre of Catalonia, and there is little doubt that the whole of that province, one of the most warlike in Spain, will fall into his possession, some of his leaders being already in the vicinity of Barcelona.—The Queen in the meantime is issuing proclamations and granting amnesties in Madrid, but her army appears incompetent to any effectual operation. This contest so injurious to the nation at large, it is believed will never be terminated by any force of arms, but can only be settled by a compromise between the contending parties.

Slave Trade.—In a debate in the House of Commons June 29th, on the votes of £11,700 for carrying into effect, the acts and treatics for the suppression of the slave trade,

Mr. Hume had reason to believe that the traffic in slaves was flourishing more vigorously than ever; and that unless our government were enabled to check the trade on the coast of Africa, and prevent the slave vessels from loading in the rivers there, there would be no hope of putting an end to it. He suggested the use of steamboats for that purpose.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said a few words. All that we could hear was to the effect that the real ultimate remedy would be found in the advance of civilization in that quarter of the globe, through the promotion of commercial intercourse.

Sir E. Codrington referred to the testimony of a naval officer who had come home recently, and who had assured him that the slave trade was now being carried on in a worse manner than it ever had been before.

The budget will be brought forward on 1st of July. The miscellaneous supplies were in course of voting, among which were £14,000 for canals in Canada, £14,140 for the ecclesiastical establishments in North America, £30,000 for education in slave colonies, &c.

LIVERPOOL, June 27.—Nothing of import has transpired in the commercial world this day. All are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the George Washington American packet, which ought to have left New-York on the 8th of this month. It is anticipated that she will bring important and interesting intelligence, as the Pennsylvania, which left here the 24th April, with the accounts up to that date of the state of the commercial and monetary affairs of this country in reference to those of the United States, will, have arrived previous to her sailing. Although due she has not yet been telegraphed.

The firms of Bolton and Ogden, and Hodson and Co. that some time ago stopped payment in Liverpool, have now paid the British creditors ten shillings in the pound on the whole of their American liabilities. This has tended greatly to relieve their immediate connexions, whilst it leaves that part of their creditors who hold American bills, with the full security of all parties thereto for the recovery of the remainder. In these cases, we are led to believe that there is no probability that any ultimate loss will be sustained by the creditors of either of the firms, and the prompt payment of half the amount of their claims has been of the most essential present advantage.

We are also to understand, that the East India Campany have extended the term to some of the parties to bills drawn against produce hypothecated to them from the Asiatic markets, and that an equal indulgence will be granted to others, as soon as some technical difficulties are removed. This corresponds exactly with the opinion we formed in the first instance—namely, that it was a fortunate circumstance for the parties that the agents of the company were the principal purchasers of this paper last year in the markets of India and China. What we mean by fortunate is, that the ability and well known liberality of the company was a sure guarantee to the parties that they would not be harshly dealt with.

Dreadful Accident on the Danube.—A dreadful disaster took place on the Danube on the 22d inst. attended by the loss of nearly 30 lives. A large bark of about 100 tons left Rugensburg for Vienna on that day, with a number of passengers, upwards of 100. On the vessel reaching Shauf, a small place about six miles from Rugensberg, she ran foul of a bridge which struck her nearly amidships with a most tremendous shock, which split her in two parts. A large portion of the bridge fell upon the passengers. An English gentleman, an officer in the Austrian army, named Westbrook Michaed, to whom we are indebted for our information, was standing a-head, and the shock threw him several yards into the river with a portion of the wreck upon him.—Being an expert swimmer, he succeeded in reaching the shore. The scene was of the most frightful description, and the cries for assistance was heart-rending.—Men, women, and children were borne down the rapid torrent. The scene at this moment it would be impossible to describe. Between twenty and thirty people perished in the river, and the loss of property was very considerable. The officer above-mentioned was the only Englishman on board. Too much praise cannot be given to the noble Prince Taxis, whose house and purse were open to all those who escaped with their lives, but in many instances lost all that they possessed. The exertions he made in person to save the lives of the passengers reflect the highest honor upon this nobleman. One poor woman who had clung to the bark, had her head completely severed from her body, and a man had one of his legs cut asunder. A neighboring hospital is almost filled with the wounded.

Mercier, one of the condemned conspirators of April included in the amnesty, obtained permission to remain a week at Lyons, in order to settle some private business. He however, conducted himself with so much impropriety that he was arrested and brought before the Tribunal of Correctional Police, for an infraction of the surveilance to which he was subjected, for resisting the public force, and for acts of violence committed upon a person who had been examined as a witness against him. He was last week found guilty, and sentenced to imprisonment for twelve months.

Congressional Elections.

MISSISSIPPI.—The N. Y. Journal of Commerce of Thursday, contains returns from thirteen counties for Congress, the vote is as follows :—Gholson V. B. 2941, Claiborne V. B. 3277, Acce W. 2991, Prentiss W. 2995. In the same counties at the choice of Electors, in November last, the vote was 4289 Whig, and 4016 V. B. There are 56 counties in the State, and the Van Burin majority at the last election was 291.

NORTH CAROLINA.—The votes in the third Congressional district, represented in the last Congress by Mr. Pettigrew, W. who declined a re-election, stood in five counties, for Stanley, W. 2430 Wilson, V. B. 2122—Whig majority 308.

Tyrrel County to be heard from, which gave at the last election, 189 whig votes and 35 Van Buren. The election of Stanley is therefore certain.

THE CALLED SESSION.—The day appointed by the President for the commencement of the called session of Congress, is the FIRST MONDAY IN SEPTEMBER being the 4th day of the month. We state the fact thus distinctly, because we perceive that the day has been mistaken in a distant part of the country.

National Intelligencer.

Stonington Railroad.—We understand, says the Journal of Commerce, that a loan for the completion of this road has been negociating with the Bank of the United States, and that the work will now be finished without delay. Probably the road may be opened this autumn.

The Tennessee papers contain the result of an examination made by four of the most respectable and intelligent citizens of Nashville, into the affairs of the Bank of Yeatman, Woods & Co, which stopped payment a short time ago. The exhibit shows that the liabilities of the Bank, on the first of July, were $754,639,77, and its means, including the private estate of the partners, amounted to $2,088,784; leaving a surplus in favor of the Bank of $1,224,144 22.

Capt. Charles Dimmock, late of the U. S. Army, has been appointed by the War Department, U. S. Civil Engineer, for the location and construction of the Military Road, authorised by a late act of Congress, from the Military posts on the Upper Mississippi, to those on the Red River. He has set out for St. Louis, where he is to meet the Commissioners, appointed in pursuance of the act, to decide upon the route.

The ship Princess of Boston was recently lost in the Mediterranean, having struck on a sunken rock in the Malta Channel. The American Consul at Palermo writes that the rock is not laid down in the charts, and that it was at the very spot where a volcano appeared some time ago, and shortly disappeared entirely.

From Liberia.—Letters received at Baltimore from Cape Palmas, give a flattering account of the prospects of the mission. A printing press is in operation, and the establishment of an additional one is contemplated. The boarding school contains forty children, ten of whom are native girls. There is also a day school in a neighbaring settlement, at which there were more than one hundred learners. A quantity of ore, found near the Cape, has been sent to this country. It is supposed by some who have seen it to be gold ore, but there were no means of testing it.

SILVER CHANGE.—The Board of Directors of the Sussex Bank, in New-Jersey, have passed a resolution, authorizing their President and Cashier to purchase $5000 worth of silver in the city of New-York, and pay out the same at the counter of the Bank, in small sums, with a view of furnishing the citizens of the country with the small change necessary for their ordinary business.

EXPRESS MAIL.

The Express Mail, at New-York on Thursday, brought New-Orleans dates to August 2d, Mobile to the 3d, Charleston to the 4th, and Baltimore to Tuesday last.—The papers and slips contain the following :—

FROM HAVANA.—Steam ship Cuba, Swiler, arrived yesterday from Havana, which she left on the 28th ult. By her we learn that the city continued very unhealthy, especially to strangers, although late cases of the yellow fever showed a considerable diminution in the virulence of the disease. Mr. George, sugar refiner, formerly of this city and late of Matanzas, and Mr. Bacon, of the ice establishment in Havana, had fallen victims to the fell destroyer.

HAVANA, July 28th, 1837.—The British packet Seagull arrived here on 26th from Tampico, with $200,000, specie for England, brought as passenger Don Cessedes, as Consul from Mexico to this port, but he is not yet recognized as such by Governor Tacon.

Cessedes is a native of Havana and has a brother in office here under the Governor.

I am credibly informed that several arrests have lately taken place, and that the parties have been conspiring to assassinate our worthy governor. It is said that no less than thirty persons are already imprisoned on suspicion of being concerned in the plot.

New-Orleans Bee, August 2.

More Specie.—The New-Orleans Bee of August 1st, says,—"The schooner Creole, from Tampico, brings within a trifle of $44,000, and reports that three Mexican Conductas had arrived at Tampico, bringing two millions six hundred thousand dollars, destined principally for Europe. The Spanish sch'r Laramousit sailed on the 19th for this port, with fifty thousand dollars, and sch'r Sarah Ann was ready to sail with three hundred and fifty thousand more. All was quiet at Tampico."

Duelling.—The New-Orleans correspondent of the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer, under date of July 30th, says :—

"Duelling is quite the order of the day, and it is quite a common question to be asked, how that duel came off yesterday, (for you must know that our leading journals seldom or never make meution of such things)—when you ask which one, you hear then of quite a different one to the one spoken of to come off, that you heard of last evening.

I have just learned that one of our most respectable merchants, Julius Vairin, has been killad in a duel, dead on the spot, by the hands of a respectable baker. This unfortunate affair, it is said, arose from a dispute about a few paltry barrels of flour.

Duel Extraordinary.—Two blacks, one a coachman, and the other a footman, fought a duel at New-Orleans on the 21st ult. The Commercial Herald says, "The dispute arose on some point of etiquette. Neither of the gentlemen would explain, and a resort to the last tribunal was determined on. They met on the field of combat, and both with the courtesy of gentlemen, and the coolness of heroes. They took their stations, and fired, but through some unaccountable mistake in the seconds, balls had been put in the pistols, and one of the parties (unfortunately for the coachman) was shot in the hand."

A remarkable case of preservation of life occurred last week in the town of Claverack, New-York. A girl about 12 years of age, with her infant brother in her arms, in lowering a bucket into a well 36 feet deep, and with six feet of water in it, lost her balance, and both were precipitated to the bottom. The cries of the girl brought her mother to the spot. She directed her to cling to the bucket and the child, and had elevated it about two thirds of the distance, when the daughter's strength failed, and they both again fell to the bottom. The daughter then succeeded in getting into the bucket, when her mother drew her safely up. An Irish laborer passing at the time, descended the well, and brought up the apparently lifeless body of the infant, but by the use of proper restoratives, it was restored to life, and the following day was as playful as ever.

Horrid.—An attempt to poison a whole wedding party, was made at the house of Mr. John Harris, of Morgan county, Geo. in the last week of July. Thirty-six out of forty present, says the Athens Whig, were made sick—but all recovered. The poison was mixed with the dressing of the turkey, and the cook is suspected.

An American Princess Married—Amalgamation. The Hon. Levi Gilman, a justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri, has recently married an Indian Princess brought up in the family of Theodore Davis, Esq. of Gibson's Creek, in that state. She is the daughter of Ke-ok-her-sha, or the Black Bear, a Fox Chief. Her father, since dead, had placed her with Mr. Davis to learn the art of "talking on paper." Mr. Davis having no daughter and being wealthy, sent Nydia, as she was called, into New Jersey where she received a superior education. She is said to be witty and agreeable, beautiful and accomplished; speaks French fluently, and has all the appearance of one of the far-famed brunette damsels of Andalusia. So says the St Louin Observer Here is the foundation of another Pocahontas royal line for Missouri.

NAVAL.—The Army and Navy Chronicle, says :—"The Navy Register of 1836, shows that we have 11 ships of the line, 17 frigates, 15 sloops of war, 8 schooners—51 vessels of war."

We undertand, (says the Salem Gazette) that the Rev. Dr. Channing has a work, ready to be put to press, and immediately published, discussing the Texas Question with great power and boldness.

The Whale Fishery.—The Nantucket Inquirer of the 4th inst. gives the following statement of four recent unsuccessful whaling voyages :—

"Four whalers from the Pacific Ocean have arrived within a few weeks—two at this, and two at neighbouring ports—which have been exceedingly unsuccessful, or as the phrase goes, unlucky; and many others, in like predicament, are daily expected. We propose to state some of the particulars of these four voyages, that all disposed to examine the subject may judge of the chances for a profitable investment of capital in this fishery, by comparing the outlays with the actual returns. One of these ships, carrying four boats, and a complement of 28 men, after an absence of 49 months, brought in a fare of 1400 bbls. sp. oil; another, with the same number of boats and men, was absent 47 months, and brought home 800 bbls.; a third, with 3 boats and 22 men, was gone 36 months, and returned with 400 bbls.; the fourth, with a like number of boats and men, was out 43 months, and came home with 1200 barrels.

We estimate the cost of outfits, respectively, at $48,000, $45,000, 23,000 and 38,000 dollars—making an aggregate of $154,000—to which add 30 per cent. for interest and insurance, and the total cost, to the owners, is about $200,000.

There were 100 men employed during nearly four years, at the above enormous cost, and the returns are as follows :—3800 bbls. oil, worth at present value, after deducting the portions belonging to the officers and crews, about $56,000;—four ships and appurtenances valued at $18,000, 10,000, 6,000 and $9,000, respectively—making $43,000; and demands against the crews in favor of the owners, to the probable amount of 7,000 or 8,000 dollars. The whole returns therefore, may reach the sum of $107,000—thus showing conclusively that the owners alone, to say nothing of the operators, have suffered losses, in these four recent cases only amounting to between ninety and one hundred thousand dollars!"

THE LADIES COMPANION.—The August number of this magazine, is jnst received. Its contents are entirely original, and its articles are graceful and well written.—This number is enriched with a fine steel engraving of "The Whirlwind," with an original poem by E. Burker Fisher. Among the articles, is a tale by the editor, Mr. Payne, entitled the "Uses of Adversity;" it is well written, and is pertinent, from the moral lesson it conveys.—The article on "Octavia of Rome," the sister of Augustus Cæsar, by the same hand, is interesting, and Mr. Payne has thus far fulfilled his pledge of making this periodical, "encourage that purity and dignity of character, which is every where of paramount interest to society."—The Ladies Companion is published at New-York, at only $3 per ann. in advance.

Mr. Clayton, the Western Aeronaut.—Mr. Clayton made an ascent in his balloon from Louisvile, Ken. on the afternoon of July 31st, when the air was extremely calm, and after remaining three quarters of an hour aloft, descended, on a farm three miles south from town. He there secured his balloon, still inflated, and in the morning at 8 o'clock he again ascended, and was wafted northerly over the town at a height supposed to be about three miles, in full view of the inhabitants.

The Louisville Journal, of August 1st, says, "We are informed that Mr. Clayton landed at sunset about three miles beyond Bardstown. He descended into the tops of the trees, whereby his balloon was slightly torn, but the injury was very inconsiderable. Had Mr. Clayton during his long continuance in the skies, moved at the usual rate of ærial voyagers, he would have gone at least 500 miles.

Great Tunnel.—A work requiring immense labor, has been achieved, in the course of the last fifteen months, on the Philadelphia and Reading Rail Road.—It is a tunnel through the hill called Black Rock, near Phœnixville. The distance cut through is 2000 feet by 19 in width, and 17 in height. The whole is of solid rock, and that of rather hardest kind.

Cost of a Launch.—The expense of merely launching the 'Big Ship,' may be known from the following paragraph :—

"In the amount granted for 1837, $25,000 were for the launching slips and ways of the Pennsylvania."

Cholera in Central America.—Though this scourge was thought to be extinct all over the world for the prosent moment, there is one quarter where it is committing dreadful ravages. A letter in the New-York Gazette from Gautemala, dated June 25th, says, 3300 had perished within that province alone, and in Equado, 4000. The inhabitants had fled in terror to the mountains, and the cochineal and indigo crops would consequently suffer greatly for want of hands.

FOREIGN BEGGARS.—The description furnished by the New-York papers of the wretchedness and disease existing among the emigrants at the Quarantine Ground, Perth Amboy, and on board the vessels in which they have come passengers, are really heart rending. Independently of what the poor creatures themselves suffer, infinite mischief is to be apprehended by our people from the spreading of the loathsome diseases under which they labor. The city too is inundated with beggars of the same description The N. Y. Gazette gives the following deplorable account.

"Where there was a single mendicant a year ago, there are now a score, and every housekeeper in New-York can bear testimony to the truth of the assertion. From the crowing of the cock to the evening twilight, his dwelling is beset with beggars, insomuch that an additional servant is found necessary to attend the ringing of the door bell. They are of all sizes, ages, countries and complexions, from the child of six years to the rival of Patrick O'Brian, who stood seven feet six, barefoot.—It seems as if Pandemonium held a holiday, and let her prisoners abroad—even as it is at present in England, on the accession of her new sovereign. Among them are to be seen [to say nothing of Irish and Swiss, Germans and Africans, because they carry with them familiar faces' as the Times says,] but Hottentots, Cannibals, Lascars Welch, Japanese, Siamese, Chinese, and every other ese to the end of the chapter. It is not two days ago, since there appeared with their hats, off and their hands extended to the occupant of the chair where this is indicted, two individuals strong, hale hearty athletic fellows, as well able to get their living as the writer, asking charity. The first was from a forgotten region of the western hemisphere, somewhere in the neighborhood of Panama; the second, a Gay Head Indian, a funny, good, natured rascal, who brought to the writer's remembrance that there was once such a tribe on the face of the earth. Indeed he was known at a glance. He contrived to lessen our pocket two shillings. The other got nothing. If a citizen of New-York held all the wealth of a Dey of Algiers, a Prince of the Peace, a Duke of Bedford, a Louis Philippe, and a Baron Rothschild combined, and possessing the heart of Sir Roger de Coverly, and gave all that is asked of him, he would find himself gazetted before he could say Jack Robinson.

Alarming Flour Combination.—The Buffalo Journal of the 1st says, there is every reason to believe that notwithstanding the immense yield of the grain crops this season, the manufacturers and dealers are busily at work to forestall and buy up the market. The extent of ramification of this secret combination is incredible, and their resources ample. The above paper says.—

We could name, we believe, a single bank for ins ance eastward of us, which, within a few days has engaged to make discounts to the amount of at least $140,000 to three individuals for the purchase of wheat—and the agents of which individuals have already passed through this city and gone west to purchase wheat of the new crop. We could also name an association of individuals in another part of our State, who already own one bank in Michigan and another in the valley of the Scioto, Ohio, if not indeed other banks, whose agents are in the field making purchases, to say nothing of the dozens of other large milling establishments who have their agents scattered in all directions, and whose means, obtained from a large number of banks, which are completely at their control, are of the most ample kind. And further, we think we could designate from seven to ten banking institution in this state, which are the mere creatures of these monopolists, and three fourths of whose discounts are either directly or indirectly made to these men, and whose demands they dare not at any time gainsay.

The Mackerel Fishery.—The Barnstable Patriot says,—"We learn that five mackerel-men, who have packed their fares at the wharf of Capt. Wm. Lewis, in this town, have already caught sixteen hundred barrels, for the quarter ending in July. During the same time last season there were less than 700 barrels at that wharf."

Several gentlemen "down east," have formed themselves into a company to obtain what relics they can from the wreck of the first American frigate ever built, viz. the Warren of 32 guns, wrecked at Penobscot in the revolutionary war.

On Saturday last the Philadelphia cars from Wilmington, run over a cow, which was instantly killed, and injuring the locomotive.

FLOUR.—According to the N. York Express, the following quantities of Flour have been brought down the North River during the last four months:

| | |
|---|---|
| In April, | 17,196 barrels. |
| May, | 20,530 do. |
| June, | 27,188 do. |
| July, | 51,517 do. |
| Total, | 116,431 barrels. |

Coinage of gold at the Mint during the month of July, 1837:

| | |
|---|---|
| Remaining uncoined June 30th, | $109,215 |
| Deposited for coinage, | 61,510 |
| | 170,725 |
| Amount coined in July, | 104,490 |
| Remaining uncoined 31st July, | $66,235 |

Whipples vs. The North River Bank.—This was a suit in the Common Pleas of New-York, for the recovery by the plaintiff of $65 in specie for notes of the Bank payment of the same having been refused at its counter. The counsel for the defence requested a suspension of the prosecution, and tendered the specie, with 10 per cent. interest and costs, (in all about $85) which the plaintiff readily accepted, and so the matter dropped.—Albany Daily Adver.

THE CROPS.—A letter to the editor of the Baltimore Chronicle, from Frederick county, dated August 5th, says,—"Our prospects for corn, oats and potatoes, surpass any year that I ever knew in this county, for quantity."

FIRE.—The large barn and stables of Mr. Matthew Bacon, stage proprietor and mail contractor at Lyme, were destroyed by fire on Friday night last. Four valuable horses were also consumed, and considerable other property. The fire was visible at a great distance on the waters and shores of the Sound.

Virginia Springs.—It is stated in the Richmond Compiler, that there are now 200 Visitors at White Sulphur Springs, and that the number was daily increasing by arrivals.

A frost was experienced at Wilmington, Vermont, on Thursday night week, which very seriously injured the garden vines, &c.

From New-Orleans.—A letter dated August 2d, says,—"Our City Bank commenced yesterday paying specie for all her notes; it was not generally known until about one o'clock, when the Bank was quite filled until closing time, the run even then was not heavy, and it is generally believed that she had to pay out but a few thousand; it is thought that she will not continue to redeem this day, as yesterday's transaction was with the object of saving the charter.

"Specie has kept up beyond all our expectations; for the last ten days it has been selling from 13 to 15 per cent. premium."

Cor. N. Y. Cour. & Enq.

The N. H. Telegraph says that two well dressed females passed through several towns in the vicinty of Nashua, a few days since, paying their tavern bills in counterfeit notes of the Amherst Mass. Bank.

The New-York papers contain certificates of Irish emigrants, who have been enticed away from home and are now destitute in that city. The cheat is practised on them for their passsage money.

Effects of Intemperance.—The Arkansas Gazette, says that Allen Bell was executed on the 15th ult. at Batesville for the murder of Wm. Compton. Previous to his death he acknowledged the crime, (shooting Crompton down, with a rifle from the fence,)—and this monstrous deed he attributes to a madness of eight days intoxication.

TRACY, Revenue Cutter Vigilant,—To this gentleman, and his gallant crew, are the owners of the Cargo saved from the sch'r Deborah of Boston, wrecked on the 20th of June, on the Island of Nashawana, principally indebted. The prompt manner in which he despatched the Cutter under his command to the wreck, his skill in rigging a stage amidst rocks and a heavy surf, which to most men would have defied all attempts, together with his perseverance in accomplishing his object, is evidence, if any were wanting, that he has not only the will, but the capacity, under every circumstance, to do his duty.

MILTON HALL.

Newport, August 5.

The following Statement, by John B. Derby, Esq. is copied from the Boston Centinel and Gazette.

TO THE PUBLIC.—The subscriber considers it due to Dr. S. C. HEWETT, (as an act of gratitude,) and to his fellow-citizens, (from impulses of humanity,) to describe, briefly the condition of body, out of which he has been rescued, by the skill and practice of the Doctor.

Before applying to Dr H. the subscriber had, (for nearly two years,) suffered a malady, which had so far deprived him of the use of his legs, that he could neither walk nor stand. Every day the loss of power was greater; and the constant sedentary posture to which he was doomed by day, deprived him of refreshing sleep by night.

The want of corporal vigor induced such a prostration of mental energy, that the melancholy prospect opened before him of years of life without action, and without regulated thoughts. And whenever sufficient light broke in upon his benighted mind, to make the darkness that involved his prospects horribly distinct, there fell upon him such an "avalanche" of misery that life itself became a burthen.

By the mercy of God, he is now (in a great degree) restored to the power of motion, (so as to walk) and to serenity of mind, by the skill and exertions of Dr HEWETT, and he publishes this (to him) exhilirating fact, that all those unfortunates, who have pined in hopeless seclusion, or suffered like maladies in "bitterness of hope deferred," may know that there "is balm in Gilead, and a physician there,"—to whom all, who would apply, may be assured, that no suffering, (by rash unskilfulness) awaits them; but that his mode of treatment is as immediately and constantly grateful to their sensations, as the result is successful and salutary.

The Physician above named is Dr. S. C. HEWETT, bone-setter, &c. 297, Washington-st. Boston. JOHN B. DERBY, Late Deputy Surveyor of the Customs, Boston.

POETRY.

From the Knickerbocker.

Death of the First-Born.

"Ah! welaway! most angelike of face,
A childe, young in his pure innocence,
Tender of limbes, God wote, full guiltenesse,
The goodly faire that lieth here speechless.
A mouth he has, but words hath he none;
Cannot complain, alas! for none outrage,
Nor grutcheth not, but lies here, all alone,
Still as a lambe, most meke of his visage:
What hearte of stele could do him damage,
Or suffer him die, beholding the manere,
And looke benigne of his tweine even clere?"
Lydgate.

Young Mother,—he is gone!
His dimpled cheek no more will touch thy breast;
No more, the music-tone
Float from his lips, to thine all fondly prest;
His smile and happy laugh are lost to thee—
Earth must his mother and his pillow be.

His was the morning hour,
And he hath passed in beauty from the day,
A bud not yet a flower—
Torn, in its sweetness, from the parent spray:
The death-wing swept him to his soft repose,
As frost in spring-time blights the early rose.

Never, on earth, again
Will his rich accents charm thy listening ear,
Like some Æolian strain,
Breathing at even-tide, serene and clear;
His voice is choked in dust, and on his eyes,
The unbroken seal of peace and silence lies.

And from thy yearning heart,
Whose inmost core was warm with love for him,
A gladness must depart,
And those kind eyes with many tears be dim—
While lonely memories, an unceasing train,
Will turn the raptures of past to pain.

Yet, mourner! while the day,
Rolls like the darkness of a funeral by,
And Hope forbids one ray
To stream athwart the grief-discolored sky;
There breaks upon thy sorrow's evening gloom,
A trembling lustre from beyond the tomb.

'Tis from the Better Land!
There, bathed in radiance that around them springs,
Thy Loved One's wings expand;
As with the quiring cherubin, he sings:
And all the glory of that God can see,
Who said, on earth, to children—"Come to me."

Mother,—thy child is blest;
And though his presence may be lost to thee,
And vacant leave thy breast,
And missed, a sweet load from thy parent knee;
Though tones familiar from thine ear have passed,
Thou'lt meet thy First-Born with his Lord, at last.
W. G. C.

THE FLOWER GIFT.

'Twas not the rose's blushing stem,
That gay and gaudy flower;
'Twas not the myrtle's snowy gem,
From Summer's sunny bower:
'Twas not the loved acacia's light,
The lily's fragrant cup,
Nor the proud iris, blushing bright,
To drink the sunbeams up.

'Twas not Love's own mysterious flower,
With magic sweetness wrought,
But the pale gem of Spring time hour
Was all the gift she brought;
Pluck'd from the sunny bed of Spring,
Amid the forest wild,
An offering meet for Joy to bring
To Nature's loving child.

From the Boston Traveller.

THE YOUNG BRIDE.

No mother's voice, with soothing strain
Is breathing in her ear,
A music which we seek in vain,
From other lips to hear;
But sad, though gentle tones impart
Affection's sunny spell,
And words steal sweetly to her heart,
From those who love her well.

And she is happy—for a dream
Like that in early days,
Which shone o'er childhood's sunny stream,
Around her spirit plays.
May taint uncloaded look that steals
Across her youthful brow
Forever light a heart that feels
As innocent as now.

Dr. EVANS' PILLS,

THE CELEBRATED CAMOMILE, or TONIC PILLS of Dr. Wm. EVANS exert a specific effort on the brain and nervous fluid, so that the palpitating heart, the tremulous hand, the dizzy eye, and the fluttering mind, vanish before their effects, like noxious vapours before the benign influence of the morning sun This tonic medicine is for nervous diseases, general debility, indigestion, and its consequences, as want of appetite, an apparent distention of the stomach, belchings, pain in the stomach, acidity, unpleasant taste in the mouth, rumbling noise in the bowels, nervous symptoms, languidness, when the mind becomes irritable, desponding, thoughtful, melancholy and dejected.

Hypocondriacism, low spirits, palpitation of the heart, nervous irritability, nightmare, disturbed sleep, rheumatism, spasmodic affections, dimness of sight and all other nervous symptoms, Dr. W. Evans' celebrated Tonic Pills will effect a speedy and safe cure.

The various Weaknesses peculiar to the fair sex, come immediately under the power of Dr W. EVANS' Tonic Pills, and ladies of fashion and respectability in this country, as also in Europe, have found them to be the best medical appendage to the toilet they ever met with, recruiting the decayed spirits, dissipating the head ache, dullness and langour, and creating a pleasing vivacity, and chasing away melancholy. They give comfort and strength to the whole system.

THE PATHOLOGY OF PREVALENT DISEASES, PART I, BY DR. WILLIAM EVANS. If the medical maxim be true, that "the knowledge of a disease is half its cure," how greatly is it to be deplored that the knowledge of those prevalent diseases which annually carry off millions of the human race, is not more generally diffused. How lamentable it is that so few of the great human family possess any information upon a subject in which, of all others, they are most vitally interested. It will probably be an incredible marvel to future generations of the world, that the past should have been acquainted with every thing except that which it most concerned them to know.

To convey this knowledge more extensively than has yet been attempted by any other practitioner, and to direct the attention of the afflicted to those few and simple remedies by which many of the most prevalent diseases may be arrested and removed, is the object of Dr. William Evans in this, and other pathological summaries which he will publish upon the authority of the highest medical writers of the age. His instruction will necessarily be brief, but its accuracy will be undeniable.

I. CONSUMPTION.—Of this disease, in one or other of its forms, eight thousand persons have died in the city of New-York, within the last seven years; this is proved by the city bills of mortality; and its victims throughout the country have been in almost the same proportion to the population. Consumption, (or Marasmus Phthisic) is of three kinds, the Catarrhal, the Apostemaous, and the Tubercular. In Catarrhal Consumption, the cough is frequent and violent, with a copious excretion of a thin, offensive, purulent mucus, sometimes, but not frequently, streaked with blood. There is generally a soreness about the chest, with transitory pains shifting from side to side. Its ordinary cause is a neglected cold, and it is therefore a very common kind of consumption in a climate subject to such sudden and extreme changes as ours. 2. In Apostematous Consumption, the cough returns in fits, and is for some time dry, with but very little expectoration, and that very difficult. There is often in this kind, a fixed, dull, circumscribed pain in the chest, which is increased by lying upon the side. The dry cough at length changes into a copious expectoration of purulent matter, which occasionally threatens suffocation, although many other painful symptoms are temporarily relieved. At this stage, the disease is rarely if ever cured. 2. In Tubercular Consumption, the cough is short and tickling, and there is often an excretion of the watery, whey-like sanies, sometimes tinged with blood. The pain in the chest is slight, and there is an almost habitual elevation of spirits. This variety is usually the result of a scrofulous taint in the system generally which, when thus seated in the lungs, can seldom be arrested in its fatal progress, unless met in its first advances.

Each of these three varieties of phthiscial consumption begins with the following common symptoms, by removing which it may certainly be cured. The patient is sensible of an unusual languor, breathes with less than his usual freedom, and consequently with more frequent respirations, which sometimes induce him to relieve himself by making a deeper respiration, similar to a sigh. When he does this, he usually feels an uneasiness across the chest; and as these symptoms increase, they are attended with more than ordinary perspiration at night, so as to leave him enfeebled in the morning, disinclined for exertion, and affected with more or less of headache. He coughs occasionally, without complaining of the inconvenience, but if his sleep be not disturbed by coughing, he usually coughs shortly after waking in the morning, gradually becoming more debilitated, and experiencing an aggravation of all the above symptoms. This is the first stage of consumption in general, and this being the only step at which there is any reasonable hope of its being cured, Dr. William Evans will not go on to describe the truly melancholy and dreadful symptoms by which its further fatal stages are characterized. To do this would be unprincipled and unfeeling quackery, for he pretends only that his medicines CURE it in this early stage, however they may RELIEVE it when more advanced.

There is also another kind of Marasmus called Marasmus Atrophica, or gradual wasting away, which cannot properly be termed Consumption, though it is frequently confounded by ignorant pretenders to physic. This disease is marked by a gradual wasting of the body, unaccompanied either by a difficulty of breathing, cough, or any evident fever, but always attended with a loss of appetite, and impaired digestion.—This disease is occasioned either by the insufficient quality or quantity of food, or by the liability of the digestive organs to perform their proper functions; or by two great evacuations of the bowels, of perspiration, or of the other secretions of the body, which it is not necessary to name. All that medicine can do in this case is to strengthen the tone of the stomach and bowels by good tonic & anodyne medicines, such as Camomile, &c. Dr. William Evans has had many cases in which the patients, who were reduced to almost the last stage of atrophy, or little better than skeletons, have been restored to their usual quantity of flesh in two months merely by having their digestive organs strengthened by his tonic or Camomile Pills. Strong or continued purgatives in this case would be certain death.

These are all the diseases that are scientifically classed under the head of Marasmus Phthisi, or Consumption, is the most fatal and prevalent species, and destroys about fifteen hundred persons in the city of New-York alone every year, and who might be cured by the timely use of Dr. Wm. Evans' Tonic or Camomile Pills, but not afterwards by any medicine

Having in Part I. given an accurate and explicit description of the Pathology of two of the most fatal Genera of Human Diseases, Marasmus and Diarrhœa, in all their known varieties; and indicated the most probable and approved means of their cure, Dr. WM. EVANS proceeds to inform the public of the Pathology of others, which are but little understood by any except the regular and well educated members of the medical profession. n thus disseminating among the many, a branch of knowledge which has hitherto been confined to the few, he need not repeat that he considers this information to be vital importance and inestimable valued by his fellow men: What can be of more importance to mankind in the present life, than a knowledge of those diseases which are continually bringing it to a close? And in what knowledge ought mankind to be so thoroughly possessed, as a knowledge of the maladies to which their own persons are exposed? The first disease which Dr. William Evans will describe in this 2d Part of his Pathology, are some of the species of the Genus Limosis, or Morbid Appetite, which forms the fifth Genus of the Order Enterica, of the class Cœliaca: and treat of the principal diseases of the Digestive function and Alimentary canal. Limosis Cardialagia or Cardialgy, an impaired appetite, with a gnawing or burning pain in the stomach or epigastrium, and tendency to faint. This species differs from dyspepsy, which will be described in its proper order, although Cardialgy is sometimes an attendant of Dyspepsy, as it is of a multitude of other complaints. The first symptom is heartburn, a gnawing or burning uneasiness, chiefly felt near the cardia, with a slight tendency to faint. The second symptom is an extension of the pain, to the pit of the stomach; anxiety, nausea, coldness of the extremities, failure of the strength, and a great tendency to faint.—This is called syncoptica, or sinking heartburn. The third symptom is an extension of the burning sensation over the whole region of the stomach, accompanied with the rising of a watery fluid, unusually insipid but sometimes acrid, which is called the water trash. The first symptom is most common, and affects both sexes. The first remedy is a good aromatic tonic, for whilst, magnesia and soda, which are commonly taken in this case, will seldom relieve it for more than half an hour; two or three of the CAMOMILE PILLS, taken in a good draught of moderately warm water, have almost invariably accomplished a cure; their effect on the heart burn of pregnancy, and of children, is always successful. Two of these Pills taken during the height of the symptoms, will generally relieve them immediately, and two of the beautiful APERIENT FAMILY PILLS, taken at bed time, will remove it for a considerable time, even in habits that are most subject to it.

DR. RELFE,S

BOTANICAL DROPS,

IS one of the most efficacious compound in the Materia Medica, for the cure of that class of inveterate diseases produced by an impure state of the blood, and a vitiated habit of the body, and usually exhibiting themselves in the forms of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Leprosy, St. Anthony's Fire, Fever Sores, (even when the bones are affected,) white swellings, (if applied with Dr. Jebb's Liniment,) foul and obstinate Ulcers, sore legs and eyes, scaldhead in Children, scurvy and scorbutic Gout, pimpled or carbuncled Faces, festering Eruptions, and Venereal taints throughout the body, in which last case the Drops often cure when Mercury fails. They are also the best Spring and Autumnal physic to purify and cleanse the system from humors which frequently appear at these seasons of the year. They also aid the process of digestion, and by purifying the blood, prevent the secretion of malignant humors on the lungs. The Proprietor confidently relies upon the vast number of surprising cures effected by these Drops, not only in Boston and its vicinity, but throughout the Union, for the best proof of their excellence as an unfailing Alterative Medicine, in all cases above specified.

This article has recently been pronounced by a physician of the first respectability who had witnessed its surprising efficacy, as entitled, in his opinion to take the lead of all the popular articles known for the above complaints, and indeed it is fast gaining this point in public estimation, throughout the country.

TO THE ASTHMATIC AND CONSUMPTIVE.

THE most prevalent and fatal of all diseases incident to civilized society—the Consumption—may generally be traced to the least alarming of disorders, a slight but neglected Cold! By estimation it appears that ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND persons die annually of the Consumption. Most of these dreadful results may be attributed to common Colds, and a negligent treatment of the harrassing Cough that generally ensues, which is usually followed by difficult breathing, pain in the side, and at last Ulcerated Lungs. Violent and repeated Asthmatic attacks also bring on Consumptive symptoms. One or two dollars expended in the purchase of and a little attention to their timely administration will usually ensure a mitigation of these disorders, and generally effect a cure. The Pills are also an effectual remedy for the symptoms preceding and accompanying the Asthma and Consumption. For colds coughs, difficulty of breathing, tightness and strictures across the chest, wheezing, pain in the side, spitting of blood, &c. Few cases can occur of any of this class of disorders, in which the purchasers of Dr. Relfe's Pills will not find a rich return for their trifling expenditure. Price—whole boxes 30 Pills, $1; half do. 12 Pills, 50 cents.

Dr. Relfe's Asthmatic Pills,

DR. RELFE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.

For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Listlessness, Head ache, Costiveness, Flatulence Cholic, Bilious Affections, &c.

TWO comment on the efficacy of these Pills, after a successful experience of many years in England and America has established their reputation, is needless; Suffice it to observe, that for redundancy of Bile, Flatulence, Costiveness, Headache, &c, &c. they will undoubtedly prove far more serviceable than those drastic purges too frequently employed, and will not only at the same time tend to remove the offending cause by gentle motions, and strengthen the digestive organs, but improve the appetite and renovate the system. Price 50 cents.

DR. RELFE'S VEGETABLE SPECIFIC
For Sick Headache, &c. Price 50 cents.

☞ DUMFRIES HIGHLY APPROVED
☞ EYE WATER!

FOR sore and inflamed Eyes, gives immediate ease and relief. On receiving sore eyes, the effect is most salutary.—Where the complaint has been of years standing, and in some exceeding bad cases, the most unexpected and desirable relief has been found in the use of this Eye Water, after every other remedy had failed.—Many persons who have used it, pronounce it the best preparation for these complaints they have ever met with, especially in cases of soreness or inflammation of long standing. Price 25 cents a bottle.

☞ TO THE LADIES;

WHITE and sound Teeth are both an ornament and a blessing. The best security for their advantage is to be found in the use of the British Antiseptic Dentrifice.

This elegant Tooth Powder, with a very little use, eradicates the scurvy in the gums, and prevents the accumulation of Tarter, which not only blackens, but looseus the teeth, and accelerates their decay. The Dentrifice thus removes the prevailing causes of offensive breath, preserves the healthiness and floridness of the gums, and renders the teeth beautifully white. Price 50 Cts.
